

Pigtail Catheter

As the professional manufacturers, Deba Brothers® would like to provide you Pigtail Catheter. The insemination catheter is made of new environmentally friendly raw materials, which is more in line with the physiological structure characteristics of pigs. It is soft and not easy to damage the inner of the uterus, reducing the occurrence of various inflammation caused by the friction of the catheter to the uterus and vagina during insemination.

Product Description

Deba Brothers® is a professional leader China Pigtail Catheter manufacturers with high quality and reasonable price. Welcome to contact us. The pigtail catheter produced by the Deba Brothers® have various materials and shapes. The pigtail catheter for sows includes an Intra-Uterus probe. Pigtail catheter's main feature is the special shape of the tip, making it even easier to insert the probe. The pigtail catheter designed to stay in the gilt for a while after insemination, in order to stimulate the uterus for a longer period of time and thus increase the absorption of sperm.

Pigtail Catheter Specification

Length	490-540mm
Material	EVA foaming
Type	Big head and small head

Pigtail Catheter Advantage

- 1.Safe and harmless: deep into the uterus and high pregnancy rate.
- 2.Special sponge head, soft, won't damage the uterus.
- 3.It is easy to use. Edible glue is used between the sponge head and the catheter, which is non-toxic, tasteless, firmly bonded and does not fall off.
- 4.Improve conception rate accurate insemination and no waste. Suitable for menstruation and sow production.

Product details of Pigtail Catheter

- 1.The super long thin tube, the seamless connection between and catheter and the bottle, and connection is stable.
- 2.Anti breaking, sponge head catheter is able 360°bend, not easy to fold.

